Family Voice Norfolk Ambassadors

Family Voice Norfolk (FVN) has an ambassador team made up of parent carers who attend events and talk to families about the role FVN has within Norfolk and beyond. Ambassadors attend events organised by nurseries, schools, sixth forms and colleges, such as coffee mornings, SEND information sessions and moving on (transitions) events, as well as events put on by other organisations. Examples of these are SENDfest, Making Sense of SEND, Visible Festival and more. If you organise events and would like Family Voice Norfolk to have a stand, please contact Rachel on admin@familyvoice.org.uk with all the details and she will get in touch with you.

One of our ambassadors, Clare, has been at events recently in Wymondham and in North Walsham with varying attendance. Our thanks as always to organisers for inviting us. Clare has talked to parent carers, heard their experiences and fed back the key issues that families are facing. It's always lovely to meet and talk to families – we do appreciate everyone taking the time to share their experiences with us. Your voices matter and help us to represent lived experiences to services.

Making Sense of SEND - 19 September - Charles Burrell Centre, Thetford 10am -12pm

Join us for our next 'Making Sense of SEND' information fair! This time we're going to be at the Charles Burrell Centre in Thetford.

These events are for parent carers who have a child or young person with special educational needs and/or disabilities (SEND), and the professionals who work with them. The aim is to share information with you and enable you to meet the people behind the services.

We have lots of services joining us with information stands so you'll have the opportunity to go around, find out more and ask your questions.

Free refreshments will be available and you're welcome to drop in and stay for as long as you like.

Making Sense of SEND is organised by the Norfolk SEND Local Offer team in partnership with Family Voice Norfolk.

One of our Family Voice Norfolk Ambassadors will be attending this fun event. Please go and have a chat with them and tell them what's working well for you and your family at the moment and what's not working so well. Your voice really does matter to us!

Norfolk & Waveney Autism/ADHD Support Service September 2024 Newsletter

As usual, the summer holiday has come to an end very quickly. Some children will be so grateful to get back to their school routines, others will be feeling a little uncomfortable about the transition period and for some there will be real anxiety and resistance around returning to the school environment. The six week holiday is long enough to allow doubts and fears to start bubbling up.

The newsletter this month will focus on how you can help with returning to School.

And our team is returning to normal service also, with our face to face courses, online information sessions and drop in support groups around the county all running again in September.

Sidestrand Hall School proposed redevelopment public consultation -have your say!

'Achievement Beyond Expectation'

Plans are currently being prepared for the redevelopment of Sidestrand Hall School which, when finalised, will be submitted to the District Council as a full planning application. The proposed redevelopment is intended to support the school in achieving an improved environment that helps to support its mission statement.

The proposals involve the proposed demolition of a number of the existing school buildings and the construction of a new building. Other aspects of the redevelopment include the formation of a Multi Use Games Area (MUGA), refurbishment of Sidestrand Hall, replacement polytunnel, revised internal vehicular and pedestrian circulation routes (including creation of revised vehicular drop off / pick up areas for taxis and cars), areas of recreational space, landscaping, drainage and parking areas (including temporary parking provision during the construction phase). The new school layout and design of the proposed new building are set out on this website. They are the culmination of partnership and consultation with the school. These designs are only the initial ideas for the proposed new school on its existing site.

We would like to invite local residents and stakeholders to contribute their ideas for the proposed redevelopment of Sidestrand Hall School by completing the form on the contact page and attending a public consultation event at Sidestrand Hall School on Thursday, 12th September 2024 from 3:30pm to 6:30 pm. Your contribution will help to further develop those initial designs.

‘School didn’t understand how needs can just develop’ (Parent of a child with PANS/PANDAS)

‘School didn’t understand how needs can just develop’. (Parent of a child with PANS/PANDAS)

This statement sums up the experience of many families supporting a child or young person with PANS and PANDAS very well. Few professionals or parents/carers have ever heard of them, but awareness is now growing, thanks to a debate in Parliament in 2023, and the work of the PANS PANDAS Steering group.*

So, what are PANS and PANDAS?

PANS (Paediatric Acute-onset Neuropsychiatric Syndrome) and PANDAS (Paediatric Autoimmune Neuropsychiatric Disorders Associated with Streptococcal Infections) are conditions that can affect both physical and mental health. They often occur in children with onset typically between the ages of 3 and 13, but PANS can also affect adults, and the conditions do not suddenly resolve at 16.

PANS and PANDAS are usually triggered by common infections like strep throat (PANDAS) chicken pox, Covid 19 or the flu. They are medical conditions and can only be diagnosed by a medical practitioner. Historically families have experienced a lot of difficulty in accessing help, but recent progress is bringing new hope that children and young people will begin to be diagnosed and treated more quickly.

How do these conditions affect children and young people in Education?

Children and young people with PANS and PANDAS can abruptly go from doing well in school to experiencing a range of difficulties. These can include developing obsessive thoughts and behaviours, tics, anxiety, behaving in younger way, anger, eating issues and problems sleeping. In some cases, children or young people can develop unexpected special educational needs.

Sometimes children or young people also have sensory issues, hallucinations and thoughts of harming themselves. These issues can come and go with symptoms changing a lot over time.* Children and young people can of course have co-occurring conditions. Families also report that neurodivergent children and young people can be particularly susceptible to misdiagnosis. The key thing is to note whether these symptoms are different from your child's or young person's typical behaviour, and to give due attention to the scope of the new impacts.

How can schools provide support?

If you suspect that your child or young person may have PANS or PANDAS, then keep a log or diary of the changes at home and speak to your child's or young person's teacher or SENCO. It is not unusual for children or young people to present differently at home to at school. Schools can help by providing evidence of the changes in your child or young person to support you at a GP appointment. They can also put in additional support at school and work together collaboratively with any other professionals involved in your child's or young person's care. In cases of PANS or PANDAS, it is crucial to accurately pinpoint the underlying cause of the symptoms at an early stage. The signs can often be mistaken for other conditions, poor parenting or behavioural disorders rather than as a medical condition.

Where can I access further information and support?

For more medical and general information please go to the PANS PANDAS UK website. For education resources including the option for schools to attend free teacher training.

*PANS PANDAS Steering Group was formed late 2022 and consists of representatives from the British Paediatric Neurology Association, PANS PANDAS UK, the Royal College of Psychiatrists, the Royal College of Paediatrics and Child Health, the Royal College of Nursing, the Royal College of Occupational Therapy, the British Paediatric Allergy, Infection and Immunology Group, The Royal College of General Practitioners and the British Association of Social Workers.

*Any child with these symptoms should be evaluated by a medical practitioner.

The Mix is the UK's leading digital charity for under 25s, reaching over 6 million young people each year. Whatever issue a young person is facing, The Mix is always there for them – via our website, text, or social media. Our support is free, confidential and anonymous and can be accessed wherever young people are.

We connect young people to experts and their peers to talk about everything from money to mental health, homelessness to jobs, break-ups to drugs and more. No topic is out of bounds, and we are completely non-judgemental.

The Mix's mission is to empower every young person to make an informed choice about their wellbeing; whether that's through our peer-led and moderated community, one-to-one webchat, counselling service, crisis support messenger or our range of support content.

We aim to put young people at the centre of everything we do; we use our service data and collaborate with under 25s to inform every aspect of our services and our wider work. We use youth voice work to share a platform with young people and put their views and experiences at the centre of the conversation.

Norfolk Community Foundation - The Shelroy Charitable Trust Fund

The Shelroy Charitable Trust Fund considers appeals on behalf of individuals who live in Norfolk who are in evidenced cases of need, typically relating to disability or health condition.

This funding might be right for you if:

You are vulnerable on account of a disability or health condition.

You are seeking support for one-off costs, for example a piece of equipment to support care or mobility or essential items for a supported person moving into new unfurnished accommodation.

You are supported by a local (Norfolk-based) voluntary organisation who can confirm your circumstances and financial need and can apply for funding on your behalf. Please note: applications by statutory bodies are not accepted for this fund.

Unfortunately, there are a few things that can't be funded. This funding is not right for you if you are seeking financial support:

Relating to general hardship/ low income, debt relief or repayment of loans.

For holidays/ respite breaks.

Enhancing sleep for children with disabilities with a new app

Special needs jungle writes, a good night's sleep is the secret to a happy, healthy family. For parents of children with special needs, getting those precious hours of rest can feel like an elusive dream. The team at Hunrosa, the NHS provider, were aware that there was conflicting and inaccurate advice and information for parents and carers about sleep to help their children and young people. With support from the National Association of Special Schools, educators, health professionals, and parents, they've created the Sleep Wise app to help children with SEND improve their sleep. It's even been found to work well for typically developing children too.

The app offers personalised guidance and evidence-based strategies.

Working together to improve school attendance

Statutory guidance for maintained schools, academies, independent schools and local authorities.

This guidance may also be useful for parents.

The importance of school attendance.

Improving attendance is everyone's business. The barriers to accessing education are wide and complex, both within and beyond the school gates, and are often specific to individual pupils and families. Good attendance begins with school being somewhere pupils want to be and therefore the foundation of securing good attendance is that school is a calm, orderly, safe, and supportive environment where all pupils are keen and ready to learn.

Some pupils find it harder than others to attend school and therefore at all stages of improving attendance, schools and partners should work in partnership with pupils and parents collaboratively to remove any barriers to attendance by building strong and trusting relationships and working together to put the right support in place. Securing good attendance cannot therefore be seen in isolation, and effective practices for improvement will involve close interaction with schools' efforts on curriculum, behaviour, bullying, special educational needs support, pastoral and mental health and wellbeing, and effective use of resources, including pupil premium. It cannot solely be the preserve of a single member of staff, or organisation, it must be a concerted effort across all teaching and non-teaching staff in school, the trust or governing body, the local authority, and other local partners.

Does your child get extra help at nursery, school or college as they find it hard to learn or do things for themselves at home?

If yes, they may be able to get extra health support from your GP Practice, including an Annual Health Check from the age of 14 onwards. So, read on!

If your child is struggling to learn, there can be different reasons for this. One of these reasons could be because they have a learning disability. There are hundreds of thousands of people with a learning disability in the UK.

This leaflet helps you think about whether your child or someone you care for could be considered to have a learning disability and should be on your local GP practice's Learning Disability Register to help them get the help they need, including a free Annual Health Check from the age of 14.

If your child has a learning disability, it's important they get the right support so they can live their best life and have the same opportunities as everyone else.

And organisations like the NHS are here to help.

This leaflet does NOT make a firm diagnosis for your child, and your GP is unlikely to make a formal diagnosis either, if one hasn't been made already.

It is designed to help you have a conversation with your GP team about your concerns and whether your child should be on their Learning Disability Register.
